Draft Agenda

Overview: This working level meeting is intended to explore whether the U.S. Climate Alliance is on track to achieve its goals and to adjust accordingly. Looking forward, we will aim at the meeting to dig into the initiative work, focusing on where input and approval from the governors' offices is essential, and to finalize preparations for the Global Climate Action Summit, Climate Week and COP24. Specific objectives include:

1. Identify successes from the first year, honing in on progress towards the goals in our 2018 Strategic Plan, and any recommendations on improving the work of the U.S. Climate Alliance. Agree on a strategy for additional recruitment ahead of and after the mid-term elections.
2. Provide input to initiatives on specific actions where states can be engaged to deliver results, agree on partners for our Deployment Consortium (to be "launched" in December), and identify additional areas that could be strategic opportunities for cooperation – thinking towards priorities for 2019.
3. Finalize U.S. Climate Alliance engagement at the Global Climate Action Summit, including negotiations on any announcements, agreement on content and speakers for the U.S. Climate Alliance event, and strategizing on outreach to potential donors.

10:00-10:15 Welcome Remarks

Secretary Matthew A. Beaton
Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs
Commonwealth of Massachusetts

10:15-10:30 Update from Secretariat

v8 July 2018

10:30-11:30 Reflections on our first year and priorities for 2019: Tour-de-Table

Each state will be invited to reflect on the U.S. Climate Alliance's first year, highlighting specific successes that we can build on. States will also be invited to share any areas we can improve to be more effective at support state climate leadership, or coordinating multi-state approaches intended to move or transform the market. Participants are asked to recommend specific changes or models that can be implemented by the U.S. Climate Alliance. Finally, states will share their ideas on priorities and milestones for 2019, with each invited to come forward with at least one thing they are doing that could be a model for the Alliance to replicate.

Facilitator: Julie Cerqueira, U.S. Climate Alliance

Outcome: Agreement on specific recommendations that can be implemented by the Secretariat, in cooperation with the initiatives and Alliance States, to improve the U.S. Climate Alliance.

Documents: 2018 Strategic Plan and Goals (internal version)

Comment [JC1]: States will be asked to send ahead of time.

11:30-11:45 Coffee Break

11:45-13:15 Initiative Updates – Round 1 (20 min each)

The secretariat will frame the initiatives in the context of the U.S. Climate Alliance's broader portfolio of work. Select initiatives will then give an overview of progress-to-date, with longer discussions on those that need feedback from the governors' teams in order to reach consensus on coordinated, multi-state actions, including those that could deliver announcements at the Global Climate Action Summit. Initiative leads are asked to provide a high-level overview and focus on specific outputs that need the feedback of governors' teams.
